

What's in it for Children and Families? (WIIFCF)

Consider the following question:

- What's in it for children and families when I participate in this training session?

Now, consider the information we will cover over the next two days:

- Characteristics of children with sexual behavior problems and adolescents who have engaged in sexually abusive behavior
- Victim-centered approach
- Assessment of children with sexual behavior problems and adolescents who sexually abuse
- Treatment and supervision of children with sexual behavior problems and adolescents who sexually abuse
- Case planning with the families of children with sexual behavior problems and adolescents who sexually abuse
- Reunification and case closure for children with sexual behavior problems and adolescents who sexually abuse.

Think about how these skills can directly support your work with children, youth, and families.
