

Do-over

- Think about the last training you facilitated and the list of identified opportunities to promote critical thinking in the classroom developed by you and your colleagues. Identify one opportunity that presented itself in your last training that you believe you could have more fully embraced. Describe the situation as it occurred below.
- Now that you have identified an opportunity and described the situation, if you were given the opportunity for a “do-over”, how would you approach the situation differently?